This TAFE SA training course will ensure personnel have the knowledge to apply the correct procedures that will meet the requirements of legislation, Australian Standard 2865:2001 (Safe Working in a Confined Space) and to ensure the safety of any person required to enter or work in a confined space.

Students are guided through two training units:

- Unit 1 considers implementing legislative requirements and offers a broad awareness of issues to be considered when working in confined spaces.
- Unit 2 provides instruction on fire safety together with advice on using and maintaining breathing apparatus, monitoring equipment and rescue equipment.

Students will obtain a Statement of Attainment upon completion.

These flexible courses are open to both individuals and groups.
