

SAFE WORK at HEIGHTS

Tuesday 27th July 2010 (1.00pm to 5.00pm)

Occupational Health & Safety (Prevention of falls) Regulations 2007 came into effect on the 1st of July 2007. These regulations place obligations on employers to take preventative action if there is any likelihood of an employee being subjected to a fall risk of greater than 2 metres.

Safe Working at Heights is a must for most employees in the workforce.

*This Course covers all training requirements as detailed in the National Code of Practice Prevention of Falls in General Construction (April 2008)
